DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group I, claims 1-22, in the reply filed on 12/28/06 is acknowledged.
2. Claims 23-49 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 12/28/06.
3. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Priority

4. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

5. Figures 1-3 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

6. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

7. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because of inclusion of phrases which can be implied, such as "It is an object of the present invention". Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

8. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

9. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 17-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claims 17-22 do not constitute a statutory process, machine, manufacture or composition of matter and are found to be non-functional descriptive material because a "computer program" cannot exhibit any functional interrelationship with the way in which computing processes are performed. The set of instructions is merely stored in a program so as to be read or outputted by a computer without creating any functional interrelationship, either as part of the stored data or as part of the computing processes performed by the computer. According to page 53 of the Interim Guidelines, such computer codes alone do not impart functionality either to the data as so structured, or to the computer. The computer codes cannot alone provide the practical application for the manufacture. Applicant's combination of code signals defines a product that is no more than a sequence of ones ("1s") and zeros ("0s"), the start-point finder, the decoder controller and the process of picture selection may differentiate but not the product.

Examiner recommends the following changes: Claim 17, line 1, before "program", --computer readable medium storing a computer-- should be inserted.

Allowable Subject Matter

10. Claims 1-16 are allowed.
11. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Claims 1-16 are considered allowable over the prior art because none of the references of record alone or in combination suggest, disclose, or teach a decoding control method and apparatus comprising a picture detector for determining one or fewest possible pictures which must be decoded first before decoding a picture to be displayed after an edit point set in the encoded data but are not to be displayed; a start-point representing a timing to decode one or fewest possible pictures; a decoding controller; and a selector for selecting one of pictures on the basis of the edit point all together as claimed. The closest prior art, Kato et al (2002/0145702), discloses conventional decoding control, either singularly or in combination, fails to anticipate or render the above limitations obvious.
